"WAR IS HELL."

"War is hell," so said an eminent gentleman a half century ago. That he was wholly right in his assertion has been amply verified time and again. But the Negro is now ready to face hell and all of its attendant horrors whenever President Wilson gives the word.

Germany, it seems, has disregarded all rules of international warfare and like a mad dog is running amuck snapping, snarling and biting at every thing, forcing the United States to the last alternative. It seems we have gotten to the bridge, there is nothing left to do but to cross it. The Negro is not asking the why or the wherefore, but like the noble six hundred,

"There's not to reason why,
There's not to make reply,
There's but to do and die."

Al! we know is that our country needs us, and we are willing and eager to do its bidding.

War is hell, but the Negro loyally loving his country and the stars and stripes is ready "to do and die" if need be. We are willing to face war cruelties and barbarities to the end that "old glory" may never be dishonored or trailed in the dust. We are Americans first, last, and always. We are not looking back into the dead past, we have no feeling in this matter save patriotism. As American citizens, we owe it to ourselves, our children and our children's children to uphold the honor and glory of our country's integrity and American institutions. We are not craven cowards, and have never shown ourselves to be when "Columbia the gem of the Ocean" is imperiled.

War is hell, so say we all, but hell hath no furor that the Negro will not dare to save the honor and glory of his country's flag. We have never been found wanting, and never will be. We invite the acid test. We are ready to shoulder arms, and to "forward march" when the word is given.

"War is hell," but those who know the Negro soldier are aware that he is not a duty shirker, nor a hardship sidestepper, rather he is truly loyal to the marrow bone.

"War is hell," even so, but the black man will be found heroically upon the firing line doing his utmost to uphold the rights of the American nation and the perpetuity of the constitution. And to the regnant race we would say, when this hell is over, give us a man's chance to live and have our being, unharrassed by race prejudice and petty jealousies. But, "war is hell," And, yet after the cruel war is done we all in truth join in singing the "Land of the free and the home of the brave."

GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL DAY.

The Globe desires that every parent will on next Sunday get an early breakfast and take their children to Sunday school. Let there be a great outpouring of the faithful and the unfaithful also. Doubtless some of you remember away back yonder when you had but one shirt, your dear mother would launder it on Saturday night in order that you might not have an excuse for being absent from Sunday school the following day. You remember how you were put to bed clothed in one of her old dresses that you would not catch cold while you were minus that solitary shirt.

The Christian spirit was rampant then in nearly every household. The older people would attend sunrise prayer meeting at the peep of day both winter and summer. After this prayer service, they would come home and have prayers again. Just before serving breakfast, mother would read a chapter from the Bible, and then father would lead in prayer, after which the whole family would join in singing one of those old-fashioned hymns of Zion.

After the morning's repast, the whole kit would go to Sunday school. Verily those were good old days when it seemed as if everybody loved everybody. We would rejoice deep down in our soul if those days were here again. Even now, sometimes in the wee small hours of the night, we often muse,
"Backward, turn backward,
O time in thy flight,
Make me a child again
Just for tonight."
But why dwell in the past? Let us live now as they did in the past, live in the church and Sunday school. Let our religion show forth in our lives as did our forebears. Often have we heard our sainted mother sing—
"Jesus loves me, this I know,
Because the Bible tells me so."
And she learned that Jesus loved her by attending Sunday school in the dark days of slavery and oppression. If you will but go to Sunday school and church you will earnestly say "In the lonely night of sorrow, hide thou me" and have the assurance that Jesus will do it for you for the reason that you put your whole trust in him.

Go to Sunday school after tomorrow; it will do you good and remind you vividly of your childhood days. Again, we say, don't forget, as it is highly important.

THE FORGOTTEN GARDEN.
Civic and school interest in gardening wins considerable applause in the newspapers before the frost leaves the ground and for a while thereafter, then comes lameness of the back and joints, and the garden is forgotten. Only those whose enthusiasm is of deeper root remain faithful through the hot and wearisome days of late spring and summer. No one ever need fear the spasmodic tiler of vacant lots. His rivalry may bulge a little in the prints, but the results of his labors are heart-breaking to those who cry for fresh vegetables. By the latter part of June the spasmodic gardener has lost all that fine glow of inspiration which seemed destined for a time to set a little corner of the world afire.

Good gardening is a matter of sound and unremitting labor in a private way, and it is not attained by a sort of social spasm, which hangers for the bouquets of publicity, while its votaries purchase their onions, radishes and lettuce at the old stand. The civic and school gardens are nearly always fizzes because they appeal to the play spirit rather than to the spirit of devotion and industry. In all these enterprises fathers and mothers should lead, acting an intelligent and untiring part themselves, and tutoring their sons and daughters in the gentle art of the hoe and rake, not for the purpose of winning cheap applause, but because the harvest that follows honest and quiet toil has its material rewards, not to speak of the joy and health which come with their attainment.

NEGRO OFFICERS FOR NEGRO TROOPS.

Now that the signs of the times point unerringly to hostilities between this country and Germany, we unhesitatingly go on record for Negro officers for Negro troops. We call upon every able-bodied man who is eligible for service to enlist and do what he can for the salvation of the nation, but we insist that they be officered by men of their own race from corporal to colonel.

In every field of endeavor the black man has made good when given the chance and we are doubly sure he will make more than good if placed in command of soldiers of his own race. We think it but fair and just that the Negro be given this chance to show the metal of which he is made. Negroes are brave and have been tried and stood the fiery test in years ago and will do it again if given the opportunity. Negroes have always borne the burden in the heat of the day, viz., at Bunker Hill, at San Juan, at Carrizal and other places too numerous to mention.

Yes, give us Negro officers for Negro troops, and then you'll see some sure enough battles. Let us have them, and the whole world will applaud the wisdom of the powers that be. Negro officers have made their mark in France, Brazil and other countries, then why can't they be had in Uncle Sam's domain?
(Negroes are Americans from head to foot, and love America for America's sake. Our doctors, nurses and our men and women in all walks of life are ready to do service for the nation under officers of their own color.)

Our quondam friend, Henry Cameron, joined "Co. G," the other night. Dr. Caruthers says this act of the genial professor is responsible for the declaration of war by congress, as every one knows who knows anything at all, that Henry is a whole regiment within himself being equal to forty-nine machine guns.

It is really refreshing to wake up mornings and find that Brother Gardner has assured the white folks exactly what the Negroes of Nashville are going to do. Brother Gardner has exclusive ownership of his mouth.

Already it is becoming apparent something more than a declaration

BROWNSVILLE.
The Improvement Society met at Farmer's Chapel on last Friday evening and program was as follows: Song, "The Juvenile choir." Prayer, Rev. S. J. Marrow. Song, the Choir. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Song, the choir. Response from the word, "Kiss." Recitation, Minnie Boone. Chorus, ten small girls, "Coming through the rye," with Miss Walden Lee as accompanist. Don'ts were read by Miss Alice Morris. Vocal Solo, "Two Little Baby shoes." Little Evelyn Womble, with Mrs. J. W. Evans accompanist. Queries by Dr. C. M. Glover. Instrumental selection, Mrs. J. W. Evans. Each number on the program was very pleasing. The vocal selection by Evelyn Womble was sweetly rendered and was forced to receive with an encore. The queries by Dr. Glover were full of information and indeed interesting. He had some questions that were of much interest to little folks, others having the older or grown up deeply interested. Mrs. Ollie Whitlow acted as secretary for the program.

Mrs. Mattie Simmons and mother, Mrs. Mary Hill, of Tremont avenue, left the city last Sunday morning for St. Louis, Mo., where they will make their future home. Mr. Simmons will join them about the middle or latter part of this month.

AT EASTER.
The snows have faded from the hills As fades the gloom from weary hearts.
A world of music haunts the hills While leaf and flower attend their arts.
Of ancient beauty unsurpassed. Lo! everywhere the hand of God.
A dauntless spell of hope has cast To stir from brain of man to sod.

Sing! little streams, as ne'er you sang,
No bloom today should drooping hang,
Forgotten are all memories sad. The grave has lost its victory
And death its immemorial sting.
Lift up, O man, your eyes and see The Christ, and at his rising sing!

Come are the doubts and gone the fears,
Supernal brightness fills all space; Hushed are the sighs and dried the tears,
Angelic rapture marks each face. Jesus who knew the bitter cross
And all the darkness of the tomb Has crowned with life what seemed but loss,
Has filled with light our path of gloom.

Hail! Hail his name, the Prince divine;
On land and sea the story spread Of his returning, holy sign.
The love is lord o'er all the dead, That out of darkness comes the day.
That out of sorrow gladness springs.
Chant, songsters! Lillies, be ye gay! Love canopies with heavenly wings.

MINNEHAHA CLUB.
Minnehaha Club never disappoints. You can always count on them to do just what they say and more. This time it has the best play they have ever given. It is a play of three acts and four scenes. It carries a cast of thirty-five with twelve speaking characters. The cast includes Puritan men and maidens, sailors, soldiers, Indians and squaws in costumes worth over one hundred and fifty dollars. Two other important characters taking part are Mr. D. Irving, who is the Indian Chief, and Mr. D. Robertson, who plays the role of Elder. For something different and entirely in a class by itself in the way of a show this play can't be beat. The Meharry Orchestra, the best in the city, will render the music. Beautiful costumes, spicy dialogue, brand new furniture, excellent orchestra all for your pleasure. Half of lower floor of Bijou reserved.

Neal, the pastor of the M. E. Church was called to Memphis to the bedside of her mother, who after a few days illness departed this life and was laid to rest at Gallows, just 28 miles from Memphis. We the members and friends of the Methodist church sympathize with Sister Neal in the loss of her mother. We all bear a part of grief with her. It is the will of our great Creator to take her mother and at some day we all must appear. Sister Neal can meet her mother again. Signed The members of the M. E. Church and the members of the C. P. C. and Friends. Sunday, March 25th, the services at the M. E. Church were well attended, the pastor preached two able sermons. The text at the morning service, John 14:6, "Jesus saith unto him I am the word." At night he used as text, 1 Sam. 17:23, "And David said, what have I now done." He made a lasting impression on the hearers.
